Q: What is the best part of your job?

A: I love the culture in the office. I love that everyone is like a family. It can get loud when everyone is there, but I like it. There aren't cubicles, and everyone gets along. I also love my coworkers. When I first started, I had a hard first week and everyone was so helpful. Being the senior in my department now, I try to instill that. I try to be as helpful as I can.

Q: How do you manage your time and ideas?

A: Everything has to be on a checklist because with accounting, everything is deadline driven. There are of course going to be things that come up, but I feel more accomplished when I can check things off my list. It's easier to manage your time, and you feel good too.

Q: Who is your mentor?

A: I would say my dad. I have always looked up to him. He is a chemical engineer. He is always the one who tells me to go to work early and not be late because he hates being late. He doesn't say much. But when he talks, it goes through your soul. He gives the best advice and we have a really good relationship. I can always tell him how I feel, I really like the relationship we have.

Q: How do you like to spend your time outside of work?

A: I do love to travel. I have always loved Hawaii, I love the beach. I love being close to the water. I have four dogs, we take them out and walk them around our neighborhood. I spend time with my family and I like to bowl. I also have a five month old baby that keeps me busy.

Q: What is your favorite fried food?

A: French fries from Sonic!
