Q: What is your favorite part of your job?

A: I love getting to talk to different types of people across the country. A person calling from the West Coast is going to be completely different than someone from the East Coast. It keeps things exciting. You also learn a lot about our different plants around the country. I appreciate getting to use that knowledge to quickly answer any questions a customer might have.

Q: How do you impact the customer?

A: To me, it's not just about how I can give you a container to store your used cooking oil in, I want to give you peace of mind. I want to be reliable, and I try to educate the customer as much as possible.

Q: Why do you like working for DAR PRO?

A: I love working with the people – there is great communication between the team. And the fact that DAR PRO is a green company. We are recycling used cooking oil to use as biofuel in trucks across America. We are also saving so much trash from being put into landfills. The technology we are using is really incredible.

Q: What have you learned from working here that you didn't know before?

A: I had no idea you could take meat scraps and turn it into something else. Also, I now know much more about restaurants from doing tours of their kitchens. I get to go to different kitchens and see how they make the food. I've soaked up everything I have learned.

Q: What is your favorite fried food?

A: I love French fries. Wendy's special potatoes with the sea salt are my new favorite.
