GET TO KNOW PEPTAN

Peptan bioactive collagen peptides are produced by controlled enzymatic hydrolysis and scientifically proven to be highly bioavailable. Once consumed, Peptan is further digested by the body – approximately 57% into free amino acids and 43% into dipeptides and tripeptides.*

The free amino acids can be used as building blocks to support tissues structures and function within the body while the dipeptides and tripeptides operate as bioactive messengers, which are essential for many physiological processes.*

The peptides are distributed throughout the body via the bloodstream, reaching body tissues.* This is the secret behind Peptan's potential as a holistic solution, offering a variety of benefits.
