

BRETT BALLOU

SENIOR ACCOUNT EXECUTIVE

Meet Brett! He is a Senior Account Executive in the Pacific Northwest. He recently started with DAR PRO back in mid-September. Brett grew up in Virginia Beach, VA and recently moved from the Washington D.C. area to Tacoma, Washington. Before he started at DAR PRO, he worked in sales for a craft beer distributor.

Learn more about Brett below!

---

Q: What do you like most about working for DAR PRO?

A: For me, it's the people I work with. I haven't met a single person here who isn't willing to lend a hand or answer a question.

Q: How do you impact the customer?

A: I just like to be as giving as possible. You know, I'm a resource for them, and if I can't provide the solution, I'm happy to ask around and find it for them. I really just want to be there and be able to answer their questions, and respond in a timely manner.

Q: Did you always know about sustainability?

A: The sustainability aspect was entirely what brought me here. As soon as I saw the job posting, I actually was sent it by a recruiter. I started looking into it and was like, yeah, this aligns with what I believe in.

Q: What do you like to do outside of work?

A: I love to go hiking and play soccer. I enjoy a lot of things that are outdoors. Washington is a great place to get out. We have Mount Rainier about an hour away.

Q: What is your favorite fried food?

A: French Fries are my favorite.