

JACK HANSEN

SOCIAL MEDIA SPECIALIST

Meet Jack! He has been with DAR PRO since September of this year and recently moved to Texas from Salt Lake City, Utah with his wife and son. In addition to working at DAR PRO, Jack is also a full-time student, completing online classes at Utah Valley University studying Digital Marketing and Business Management. About Jack, people around him have said that "Jack is a friendly, eager team member who is always motivated to learn and do his very best. We can count him to share fun, creative ideas for how we can engage with our customers on social media and more."

Learn more about Jack below!

Q: What do you like most about working for DAR PRO?

A: I have really enjoyed the fact that everyone around me has been so nice and interested in getting to know me. Being a part of Team DAR PRO has been so fun!

Q: What is your favorite part about working in social media?

A: Working in social media can be a real challenge if you don't know what you are doing, so I would say that my favorite part has been the opportunity to learn more about marketing has been my favorite part.

Q: If you had to choose three words to describe yourself, what would those words be?

A: I think I would choose empathetic, motivated, and creative.

Q: How would you describe what kind of worker you are?

A: I am always looking for ways I can improve, so I would say that I am the kind of worker that is always learning and seeking feedback on what I can do better.

Q: What do you like to do outside of work?

A: Because I am in school full-time, working and being a father, I don't get too much free time. But when I do have free time, I like watching sports, fishing, playing video games, reading comic books, and watching movies.

Q: What is your favorite fried food?

A: My favorite fried food is definitely fried chicken sandwiches.