

TIM FONTAINE

CORPORATE CLEANSTAR MANAGER

Thirty years ago, Tim Fontaine started working in the used cooking oil recycling industry. Five years later, Darling Ingredients purchased the company he was working for. These days, he works with the sales team to help large customers with wrapping up their deals, managing installations, and more. Tim's team said, "Tim brings a great attitude and workman like approach every day to work. His greatest strength is how much he cares for the customer and our company. He is a tremendous communicator that is able to convey his practical knowledge of our equipment solutions to all levels of customers, sales, and install and repair providers."

Q: What do you like most about your job?

A: My job is different every single day. I'm never bored, and I get to work with customers to make their lives easier and better!

Q: What is your favorite part about working for DAR PRO?

A: There are so many talented and amazing people in our leadership. Not only that, but the operations team - the drivers, plant workers, and others are the heart of this company. We couldn't do it without them.

Q: If you had to choose three words to describe yourself, what would those words be?

A: I would choose the words dedicated, experience, and thankful to describe myself.

Q: How would you describe what kind of worker you are?

A: It's always been a part of who I am to never give up - ever. I don't sleep until the job gets done.

Q: What do you like to do outside of work?

A: I like to go on vacation with my wife and kids! We usually go to Florida.

Q: What is your favorite fried food?

A: I love chicken wings and french fries - no matter where they are from!
